

The Growth of a Soul

Another human document which takes its place beside The Confession of a Fool, Legends and The Inferno. It traces Strindberg's experiences as a student at Upsala university, a private tutor, a doctor's assistant, an actor, a dramatist, a journalist and a landscape painter, throughout the course of which one is painfully aware of the temperamental revolt which his morbid nature only increased as the years went on. * * * * * Has both psychological and biographical interest... an interesting account of a divided soul.
