

Tasi & Matina: The Story of the First Clown Fish

On a warm, tropical island there lived a girl named Matina. Matina and her sisters played throughout the island and in the sparkling blue sea that surrounded it. Matina and her sisters were full of love and happiness. They shared their love and friendship with all of the animals of the sea who lived in its vibrant and colorful coral reefs. Tasi was a lonely fish who lived in the ocean reef. This is the story of the great friendship between Tasi and Matina. Their love for each other changed them forever, along with all of the animals of the sea who knew them. This is the story of how a tiny fish named Tasi got his white stripes and became the first clown fish.
